DEATH CLAIMS MELVIN MEYERS

Foreman of The Republican News Composing Room Succumbs to Attack of Appendicitis, Following Operation

Following an attack of appendicitis with which he was stricken about one week ago, Melvin R. Meyers, foreman of The Republican news composing room, died at 1:45 o'clock this morning at the Deaconess hospital, under an operation yesterday morning but this having been delayed, his condition was such that he did not rally. The body has been removed to the Maus under-taking parlors and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Meyers was in his twenty-fifth year. He was born in Logansport, Ind., and spent the early years of his life there. His father and mother and other relatives live there. He came to Arizona something more than four years ago, having previously spent a short time on the coast.

MELVIN R. MEYERS

He was first employed on a paper at Kinman, and afterward came to Phoenix. His first employment here was in The Republican job shop, but soon after he was transferred to the news composing room where he engaged in the ad alley. Later he was advanced to the position of subforeman and upon the resignation of Foreman Anthony H. Robben last March, he succeeded to the foremanship.

Than Melvin R. Meyers there are a few more likeable characters. Uniformly courteous, always smiling, earnest, honest and industrious, he soon readily and held them. His work in the foremanship of The Republican brought out his true worth and ability as a printer. He secured and retained the loyalty of his force throughout. He was ever ready to lend a helping hand to a brother printer in need. His memory will be cherished long by every one who knew him.

Besides his parents in Indiana, he leaves his wife, Nellie Meyers, and one little daughter, about three years old. The family residence is at 315 North Tenth street. While not a member of fraternal orders, he was greatly interested in church work, and before coming to Arizona, was a member of the choir of the church he attended at Logansport.

NEW MISSION—Rev. J. H. Brittain, of the Free Methodist church, and a band of consecrated workers have opened a mission at 31 South First avenue. The object of the mission is to reach the class of people who ordinarily do not and will not attend church. An invitation has been extended to all church workers in the city to join them in their work.

MOOSE SMOKER—The members of the Moose lodge enjoyed a smoker and luncheon at their club rooms yesterday evening, the event starting at 9:30. A large number of visiting brethren were present. A program was rendered and a very successful social evening was resultant.

HERE FROM ATLANTA—John S. Sanders from Atlanta, Georgia, is now making his headquarters in Phoenix, having charge of the state of Arizona for Remington Arms Union Metallic Cartridge Co. Mr. Sanders has been southern manager for this company for twenty years and is making many friends here at the gun club shoot.

LIVE STOCK BOARD MEETING—At the meeting of the Live Stock Sanitary Board, held this morning, the question of raising the quarantine which is now resting on the Mexican herds, was deferred until the board meets again at ten o'clock this morning. The matter was the subject of a general discussion at yesterday's meeting, but no conclusion was reached on the question.

WARNING AGAINST IMPOSTERS—Anson H. Smith, proprietor of the Mohave Miner, has been compelled to issue a telegraphic warning throughout the state against all persons claiming to be agents or solicitors for that paper. The Miner has none. The great gold strikes which have been made in the county have probably made it easy for imposters to secure advertisements and subscriptions for the Miner.

SUPREME COURT—The damage suit of R. R. Shultz against the city of Phoenix, which was tried in the Maricopa Superior Court last September and which was decided in favor of the city, was entered in the Supreme Court yesterday. The plaintiff demands the sum of $30,000 damages, alleging that he was injured by striking a wire which the city authorities had stretched across Washington street during the state fair last year. He was riding a wheel and is alleged to have been badly hurt when he collided with the wire.
